CLEVER TEAMS IN BATTLE ROYAL

Georgetown and North Carolina Crosses Bats on Broad Street Diamond.

FLUSHED WITH VICTORY

Carolina Came Here With Scalp of Virginia at Her Belt.

The University of North Carolina baseball team, fresh from their double triumph over the University of Virginia at Chapel Hill and Greensboro, will play the brilliant team from Georgetown University, of Washington, at Broad Street Park at 4 o'clock this afternoon. This game is the second of the series for the university and collegiate championship of the South, Georgetown having already won the first game of the series.

The Georgetown team arrived in the city last night and is at Murphy's Hotel. The Carolinians left Greensboro last night and are due here at 7 o'clock this morning. Both teams are in fine condition and are keyed up for a great struggle. The Georgetown aggregation is a fine body of young athletes, and their records show that they are well up to the highest baseball standard. Carolina has a brilliant record also, and the boys from "Down home" will play the game of their lives today.

It is expected that Sitton, the Carolina wonder, who struck out seventeen of the University players Thursday, will go in for the Blue and White, while either Drennon or Ayer will pitch for the Blue and Gray. Drennon is a young left-hander, who has made a brilliant reputation in a single season. Ayer is a seasoned twirler, with a record of almost unbroken victories to his credit, and is a cool and steady pitcher. The battle between the two promises to be a brilliant one.

Skillful Players All.

Carolina's batting order will probably be as follows, assuming that Sitton pitches: Emerson, second base; Winston, catcher; Chesbro, shortstop; Gauder, third base; Worth, center field; Thompson, right field; Brown, first base; Winborne, left field; Sitton, pitcher.

Georgetown's team will probably be: Ayer, pitcher; Hart, catcher; Larkin, first base; Shiller, second base; Morgan, third base; McGettigan or Smith, shortstop; Keane, left field; Burns or McGettigan, center; Martell, right, with plenty of substitutes.

The two teams are evenly matched and are on edge in point of condition and eagerness to win. It is going to be a spirited contest, whichever wins, and the interest of the spectators will be kept at a high pitch until the close. Many students of both universities will root for their favorites.

While the Georgetown base-ball team is in the city the boys will visit Hollywood Cemetery and go to the grave of young George Balcan, a Georgetown student.

Interesting Themes Announced for Sunday Morning and Evening.

TO REPEAT EASTER MUSIC

Unusually Attractive Programme at Monumental's Afternoon Service—Christ's Agony.

Pastors announce interesting themes for discussion to-morrow.

Rev. J. A. Thomas, pastor of Laurel Street Methodist Church, will begin a series of meetings at his church at the services to-morrow. There will be services each night during the coming week, and the pastor will do the preaching. Mr. Thomas's subject to-morrow morning will be "The Autumn of Life," and "Heavenly Spectators" will be his night theme.

Rev. Dr. Young will preach both morning and night at Centenary M. E. Church. Morning subject: "Trusting the Best in Ourselves." Evening subject: "Diogenes With His Lantern at Noon Looking for a Man: Was He Right?"

At Park Place Methodist Church the pastor, Rev. L. B. Betty, will preach morning and night. Morning subject: "A Comfort With Respect to Wise Action." Evening subject: "A Question With Respect to Unwise Inaction."

At the Second Baptist Church Dr. W. R. L. Smith will preach in the morning on "How Our Lord Spent a Sabbath in Capernaum." In the evening his theme will be "The Powers of Hope."

At Calvary Baptist Church to-morrow the pastor, Rev. Ryland Knight, will preach from the subject, "At the Right Hand of the Throne." At the night he will preach the annual sermon of the Ladies' Missionary Society of the church, from the topic, "The Sign of Failure."

At Leigh Street Baptist Church to-morrow, the pastor, Rev. M. Ashby Jones, will preach at both hours. In the morning his theme will be "Tested, But Not Tainted." In the evening his subject will be "The Lives We Honor—A Memorial Day Message."

The services at the Grace Street Baptist Church will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. S. Gardner. His subjects will be "The Christian's Light" and "Attention to the Main Thing."

Dr. Derieux, pastor of Venable Street, will preach at both services. The night service will be evangelistic, and the subject will be "Christ, the Bearer of Our Iniquity."

The regular service will be held in Redemptorist Church on Sunday. Rev. W. E. Robertson will preach at both hours. The morning subject will be "Christ's Agony." Mrs. DePrato and Mr. Collier will sing a duet. At night the subject will be "The Timid Sufferer's Prayer." The Willing helpers will meet at 3:30 in the afternoon.

The meeting that has been in progress at the West End Christian Church for the past two weeks will close to-morrow night. There have been thirteen additions to the church, with splendid attendance during the entire time. The preaching has been done entirely by the pastor, Rev. Henry Pearce Atkins.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. R. W. Savage, of Beach, Va., will conduct services and preach for the First Unitarian congregation at Monroe Hall Sunday morning.

At the afternoon service at the Monumental Church the choir, under the direction of Professor Jenkins, will repeat the musical programme, which so charmed and delighted large congregations on Easter Sunday.

Rev. B. H. Melton will return to-day from Chicago, Va., where he has been holding a successful meeting for the past two weeks, and will occupy the pulpit of Marshall Street Christian Church at both the morning and night services to-morrow.

Services will be held as usual at Clay Street Methodist Church to-morrow, conducted by the pastor, Rev. T. McN. Simpson.

At 11 A. M. the subject will be "The Rejected Stone"; at 8 P. M., "The Discredited Name."

BACK TO OLD STAND.

Justice John Holds Fort Again in the White Chamber.

"Back to the old home again," mused Justice John, as he took a drink of water while his life on the blotter and dipped the mulliken brush in the ink bottle.

"All hail the chief!" shouted Mr. Gibbons.

"How dare you call me chief while I am retreating?" said J. J., as he wiped the ink off on Edger's bald head.

Then Sergeant Thomas started to clear the docket.

The docket, as usual, was large, for there were steady and diversified cases continued on from other days, which had to be disposed of, and that was what J. J. was there for.

Jennie Wallace tried to get Webster Wallace out of the hole she had placed him in when she said he tried to beat her. She succeeded in her effort, but she landed in the hole herself, and it cost her $2.50 for fibbing.

The case against Leslie Garber was dismissed, for he showed that he simply borrowed a ring from a friend and lost it, and the charge of theft was not sustained.

Bernice Allen ran after Mary Allen with a knife. The doctor fixed up Mary and Bernice was sent on to the grand jury.

Edward Johnson was dismissed of the charge of knocking a man down, because it was shown that the man tried to slice Johnson with a knife.

The other cases were $2.50 each, and ran as follows:

John Buller, fighting.

John Buller, fighting.

Jennie Johnson, fighting.

Rosa Wortham and Hattie Nowell, fighting in a bar-room.

Sarah Gray, disorderly.

John Anderson, fighting.

John Anderson, fighting.

John Dougherty, drinking in Hollywood.

BOYS IN BALLET.

Musical Comedy to be Staged Here by University Students.

The Arcadians, the University of Virginia dramatic club, are to appear at the Academy of Music Friday night, May 12, in the "Khan of Kathan." When presented in Charlottesville during Easter week, this original musical comedy made a decided hit, and was an unusual success, artistically and socially. The play is the production of Mr. Kenneth Webb and Mr. Hermann W. Albert, Columbia University students, and its first performance was a week's presentation at the Carnegie Lyceum, in New York, by King's College of Columbia University, about the middle of March. Through the courtesy of the authors, permission was accorded the Virginia boys to stage it in the South, and the services of the same skillful coach were secured, Mr. Frank Lea Smith.

The Charlottesville performance was successful almost beyond what could have been hoped for, and the novelty of a successful comic opera presented by an all-male cast will attract a large number of persons aside from the social aristocracy of a university organization in Richmond.

The club from the university has appeared here before, notably in the performance two years ago of "Charlie's Aunt." But from farce comedy to musical comedy is a far call, and the authors have done credit to themselves by attempting so difficult a task and carrying it through.

Four Richmonders will be seen on the boards, three in the chorus and one in the cast.

THE MAY QUEEN.

Delightful Entertainment by Children of Second Church.

A beautiful entertainment was given at the Second Baptist Church last evening by the children of the Sunday-school, under the management and careful instruction of Miss Bettie Elyson and Miss S. E. Roberts.

The old-fashioned May-time display with modern improvements. All the characters were represented by little tots, some of them very small, and when all the "flowers" of the garden, the butterflies, the nymphs, the flower gardens, and little cups were all on the platform 100 children made a beautiful scene.

The May Queen will be repeated this afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Leaf Tobacco Market.

There was pretty lively business on the Tobacco Exchange yesterday. Ninety-five packages were sold by sample and were readily taken by the market.

The packages were small and the most of them were of low grade. There were some good lots among them, some that went as high as $18. Other packages sold for $12 into the question of inferior grades that command less than $5.

Shelburne's, Crenshaw's and Shook's warehouses had small quantities of lower grades put out some very good stock. One pile sold at $20, and several reached the $20 mark.

There was a steady demand for the Exchange or the warehouses until Tuesday morning.

Governor Improves.

Governor Montague continues to improve slowly, though he is still unable to leave his bed, and is under the care of his physician and a nurse.

The governor's mail yesterday brought tender messages of sympathy from friends in almost every county in the State, wishing him a speedy recovery. He will probably be able to sit up some time next week.

Committee Meets.

The Committee on Grounds and Buildings met last night, and transacted much routine business.

The special committee named to look into the question of inferior gas furnished the consumers here, met and disposed of some preliminary matters, but disposed of nothing important.

Took Major Anderson's Hat.

Attorney General Anderson on Thursday lost his silk hat at the City Hall, it having been worn off by mistake by some other wearer of a high hat.

The hat was found by a man who had gotten the better of the involuntary trade, and not knowing whose hat he was wearing, he put it on.

The address of the occasion will be given by Mr. George A. Hanson, of the State Assembly. Other exercises will accompany the address.

The Produce Market.

There was no change in conditions on the wholesale produce market yesterday except that strawberries were a little more plentiful. Receipts of green stuff from the South were sufficient to meet the demand and the retail market will be well supplied this morning.

IS IN SYMPATHY WITH MOVEMENT

Attitude of Richmond College Towards Crusade for Better Schools.

COMMENDS MR. CARNEGIE

Resolutions Adopted by Trustees Expressing Appreciation of Recent Benefaction.

The trustees of Richmond College, in their called session Thursday afternoon, did much to prepare business for the annual meeting in June. Several lines of work were mapped out, and special committees appointed. The president of the college and Prof. S. C. Mitchell made interesting and informing addresses on the educational situation and outlook, which pleased the trustees very much.

The following paper, presented by President Boatwright, reaffirming the interest of Richmond College in the work of the Southern Educational Conference, was unanimously adopted:

"It seems proper at the present time for the trustees of Richmond College to declare the attitude of the college in reference to the various national undertakings in education, popularly designated as 'the Ogden Movement.' This declaration does not indicate any change of policy on the part of Richmond College, but simply states afresh the position consistently held by the college for more than a generation.

"Richmond College is to-day and has always been national in its spirit and in its service. Location of the college, once divided two great sections of our country, it has drawn its resources from both sections and has rendered large service to the nation. To friends in the North the college is indebted for more than one-third of its income from investments, and for about one-fifth of the cost of its buildings. Aid funds established here have helped alike students from North and South. Representatives of this college were among the first at the Civil War, and to preach universal education as a potent remedy for the evils of the South. The college in this respect of J. L. M. Curry, professor of philosophy in Richmond College, attracted such attention in the early '80s, that he was chosen general agent of the Peabody Fund for Southern Education, and later agent of the Slater fund in communication with the college, he remained a trustee of the college, and for most of this time was president of the corporation. He was still actively identified with the college at the time he was prominent in organizing the Sapon Springs Conference, out of which the General Education Board was born. Dr. Curry's death, in 1903, he remained a trustee of the college, and for most of this time was president of the corporation.
